(Special to the N. Y. Post)

Senat Green, of Missouri, has written a letter to a friend in this city, in which he declares that he is in favor of the removal of the Government from its present site. Governor Andrew Johnson is still engaged West addressing the people on the war and making a hearty support of the Government. He will leave next week as Chairman of the Senate investigating Committee.

Soldiers who were removed from the hospital at the time of the fire, have been assigned quarters in the Japanese Asylum in this city. The hospital has been converted into a hospital for the poor.

Mrs. Lincoln will return from Boston on Monday.

Captain Merritt has been on a reconnaissance yesterday, and has returned with the following information: The cavalry and infantry are now encamped in the vicinity of Wilson's station, but discovered no enemy, their advance having left for the South on Sunday morning. The cavalry is now encamped, and is still in the vicinity of Casaville. General Sherman has little faith at present in their having any design of attacking us. He will, however, after a few days have some reliable information as to the intentions of the rebels, and his future course. The troops are now purely as enthusiastic as ever, and the more they learn of their new commander, the more they are satisfied with him. This feeling is increased by the fact that the late General Hunter by all the old army officers is considered a very able and brave man.

General Harbo's position on the counter question is understood to be as follows:

All negroes coming into camp will be regarded as traitors and are proven to be the property of Union men. They will be immediately executed. It is to be paid when and how Congress may see fit.

General Atchafalco has endeavored to remove from his Division Col. Albani, a Brigadier-General, with daily apparatus and other valuable foreign officers, who at first decided to leave will remain.

Marcus J. Parrot, of Kansas, has been appointed to the position of Major-General.

The commanding at Sarco is some days ago said to have been a salute, fired in honor of the capture by the rebel Legislature arsenal.

General Hunter, it is now believed that General Price has no intention of attacking us, and that, if pursued by us, he will give his army or retreat to Fort Smith, Ark., or to the mountains of the Potomac and Kentucky. It is very doubtful whether any advantage of the main body of our army was made, but further intelligence of the number, position, and designs of the rebels may cause a change of movements on the part of our army.

General Sigel has been appointed commander of this post.

General Hunter spent part of yesterday in visiting the various camps and examining into the condition of the troops. He has been gone on a reconnaissance south with his light guard, 400 infantry, battery, artillery, and several companies of cavalry.

(Special to the New York Tribune.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Secretary Welles received dispatch at 1 o'clock this morning from Commodore Schuchert of the Potomac flotilla, stating that the rebels and below Shipping Point, were on the main and apparently going southward, and that the steamer General Page had managed to get out of Quantico and away along the coast stream.

Gen. McClellan received similar information. It is believed that the rebels are frightened by Gen. Hooker's growing entrenchments and are retreating in the direction of the river down to very likely at Mathias Point.

The Page was enabled to escape by the fact that she had been ordered to go to the wharf which raised the water so that she could go in shore.

The Navy department credits the news of the success of the expedition received via of rebel ships at Fortress Monroe.

The Star of this evening says that the rebels are spending the winter there, and that indications that the rebels posted on the Potomac were making preparation to send an expedition to the north, and that the rebels are making preparations to send an expedition to the north, and that the rebels are making preparations to send an expedition to the north.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 10.

Archbishop Hughes left for Europe last Monday. Thurlow Weed was to leave to-day, but it is understood that he will be followed in a few days by Bishop McEvilly, of Ohio, and the Archbishop of Baltimore. It is also understood that the Archbishop of Baltimore is to be made with the approval, as all the news here is in consultation with the President's Cabinet.

The news from the lower Potomac shows that the rebels are making preparations to send an expedition to the north, and that the rebels are making preparations to send an expedition to the north.

The gentleman who came under a flag of truce from Norfolk yesterday, says he brought all the news known in regard to the fleet, and the situation of the army. He says that the fleet is so small that it is a despatch had been received at Port Royal that one of our vessels was disabled by the batteries, another was aground near Port Royal.

There is every appearance of our army remaining in this vicinity some time, unless emergency requires its presence at some point.

ST. LOUIS, NOV. 1.

General Fremont arrived on a special train this evening, and was met at the depot by a large and enthusiastic crowd of citizens. Large delegations of Germans from various wards of the city escorted the General to his quarters, and a torch-light procession.

PITTSBURG, NOV. 1.

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKET

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE JOURNAL
SATURDAY, JAN. 3, 1903.

It would be a matter of relief if we could feel rested in reporting a better feeling in monetary matters but the dullness that has characterized the market for weeks past was observable yesterday. The exchange is abundant and is cleared freely by bankers at 4 1/2 per cent over, the buying rate being the same as the selling rate.

WHEAT AND GRAIN.—There were considerable movements of wheat yesterday and one or two large amounts of wheat for the East. The boats leave Pittsburgh to-day will take nearly 4,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000 bushels of barley and 1,000 bushels of corn.

CORRUGATED-Sales at $60¢. Nothing done in oats or rye this week.

CURRUP-Unchanged. Sales 75 boxes Western Rye at 66½¢.

COTTON YARNS-Light sales to the trade at 14½¢, with an addition of 5¢ to the country.

WHEAT-Unchanged. Sales at 13½¢.

WHEAT-Market firm but very quiet. Sales in wheat at 15½¢(all). Molasses held firmly at 44¢.

Sales 59 bags coffee at 15½¢(7).

TOMACOO-Sales of 20 bbls; value: 19 at $7 77; 80 @ $6 75; 1 at $5 85; 2 at $11 50; and 1 at $18 75.

CINCINNATI, N.Y., 1876.

FLOUR dull, and superior not salable at over 84¢ and extra at 84 20/32. Red wheat is higher than good demand at 84½c, white 85 5/8c. 15,000 bushels timothy demand at 27c and clover, 25¢.

Barley unchanged.

firm at 11. Provisions dull and no life in the market. New mess pork offered for this and next month at $6.50. No buyers, and nothing done on bid. Lard in good demand: No inquiry bacon or hams offered at 810 7/8. No buyers. Butter unchanged and steady. Flour unchanged and steady. Coffee and Fair. Business doing in sugar and coffee at full prices. Molasses dull. Lined oil buoyant at 73 1/2c. Wax 30c. Good demand for tallow at 74 1/2c. No buyers. Cotton unchanged.
